Citizens' Unit Against Power Bonds Formed

Reasons for 'No' Vote On Proposal Told In Pamphlet

Formation of a Citizens' and Taxpayers' Association of Redwood City to oppose the November 2 bond issue to finance purchase of the power distribution system of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company was revealed today with issuance of a pamphlet telling reasons for voting "No" on both propositions to be put on the ballot.

The executive committee of the association, according to the brochure, is composed of Henry D. Ferrando, L. E. Verder, O. Olson, Kenneth S. Murray, Thomas W. Cutting, Mrs. Louise M. Alexander, Dr. A. E. O'Neill, L. W. Jenkins Sr. and W. W. Hilton.

Four principal reasons are given for opposing the $575,000 bond issue:

- "1. More bonds would endanger Redwood's harbor development.
- "2. City's debt would be $1,322,000, greater than San Jose's total debt.
- "3. Valuable property would be taken off assessment roll.
- "4. We would lose one of our largest payrolls."

Explanations are given for each of the reasons. The pamphlet is being circulated in the city.

Crowds Expected For Menuhin Concert

Yehudi Menuhin, whose violinistic genius has caused the world to pause, plays in the San Jose Civic Auditorium this Friday evening, the opening event of the San Jose Concert Series under the Denny-Watrous management.

The Menuhin family is closely knit. "We are five," they say, and all five travel with Yehudi wherever he plays, from coast to coast and continent to continent. There is Hephzibah, born May 20, 1920, and Yaltah, born October 7, 1923. The names all have a special meaning: Hephzibah means "My delight in her," Yaltah is the name of a beautiful country town in Marutha (Mrs.) Menuhin's native Crimea, while Yehudi means "Jew." While Yehudi loves San Francisco and the girls adore Paris, where they had most of their education, the family loves most its retreat in the Los Gatos hills, "Mo-Ma-Ye-He-Ya," a name made from the first syllables of the family's first names.

While the two girls are amazingly talented pianists, both able to give a concert program at any time, only Hephzibah has so far appeared publicly, and that but rarely, when she has appeared with her brother Yehudi in a sonata recital. The two are scheduled for a number of concerts in the early spring.

Friday's concert in San Jose is bringing one of the largest audiences for a musical event in San Jose's history.

POWER CAMPAIGN GETS WARM AS COUNTER-STATEMENTS FLY

McCarthy Denies Debts to Be Overly High; Wolbert Scouts Low Rate Theory

The current campaign of the city to acquire the power distribution system of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company through voting of bonds, November 2 entered a new phase here as for the first time representatives of both sides of the issue submitted statements designed to refute claims made by the other.

Proponents of the municipal ownership proposal, through Mayor Paul A. McCarthy, sought to prove the "after fallacy" of claims made that the voting of $575,000 in bonds would give Redwood City a "dangerously large indebtedness" while opponents of the issue, through L. E. Wolbert, superintendent for the P. G. & E., denied that "municipal ownership will result in more industry for Redwood City because power rates will be lower." Both statements in full follow:

By PAUL A. MCCARTHY, Mayor

The City of Redwood City

One of the principal arguments of the P. G. & E. against the proposal of Redwood City to acquire its electric distribution system is that the bonded indebtedness of the city will be increased from $747,484 to $1,322,484, which their representative says is a dangerously large indebtedness and one which will increase the liability of taxpayers and the per capita debt in Redwood City greatly beyond comparable sums in Burlingame, San Mateo, San Jose and Palo Alto. The utter fallacy of this contention is apparent upon consideration of the following facts:

From the fiscal year 1929-30 to the year 1937-38, the tax levy for interest and principal of bonds outstanding, $350,000 represents 10-year refunding bonds at 2 per cent interest (except 4 per cent for the first two years). These are replacing 7 per cent interest improvement bonds on which the city had a substantial legal liability. Two-thirds of interest and principal of this issue is being paid and will be paid each year from collections directly from the property benefited by the street improvements. Therefore, it represents to the taxpayers generally an issue of only $116,667 with interest at only 2 per cent a year after the first two years. This removes $233,333 from the total which must be serviced by tax levy.

Also in the present total of $747,484 there is included $17,500 of water system bonds, all interest and principal of which is paid and has always been paid from the earnings of this department; this year, $3145.65 interest and principal is paid by this department. In this same way the surplus earnings of the water department have paid off $85,500 of bonds issued for that system and also all charges for interest on an original total bonds of $103,000 for the water system. No interest or principal of these bonds has ever been paid by any tax levy.

Thus, out of $747,484 bonds now outstanding, interest and principal on only $496,651 is met by taxes. This sum also includes $200,000 of port bonds, the interest and principal of which may be partly met from earnings after the first year or so of operation. Excluding port bonds, only $296,651 are a charge against private property.

Thus Redwood City compares favorably with Burlingame's $440,270 bonded debt and San Mateo's $299,958 bonded debt. Neither has any port bonds; only the former has any utility bonds outstanding. Bonds of $375,000 for the electric system will not only not add one cent to the taxes, but will show profits of $52,000 to $75,000 a year after paying interest on this bond issue. Even the smaller sum is one and one-third times all annual charges for interest and principal of all present bonds. From these profits $20,000 a year (with larger amounts in later years as annual interest decreases) will be used to pay the principal of bonds as they mature. These bonds cannot constitute an actual tax liability. Furthermore, the charter approves their exclusion in calculating the total bonded indebtedness of the city. Section 65 says: "But bonds issued for the construction, acquisition, extension or improvement of any income-producing utility owned by the city shall be deemed to increase the bonded indebtedness of the city only to the extent that such utility is not self-supporting." Electric utility bonds will be wholly self-supporting;

Pacific Gas and Electric Company

The claim has been made by Mayor McCarthy that municipal ownership will result in more industry for Redwood City because power rates will be lower. He has said "Redwood City's prospective industrial development requires low power rates which are assured through public ownership."

Mayor McCarthy perhaps does not realize that industries of substantial size are now able to buy power at rates lower than those under which Redwood City could buy its supply from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

For example, the Pacific Portland Cement Company's plant on the Bayshore receives electric power on the company's P-30 rate, which is lower than the wholesale rate at which Mayor McCarthy has said the city would be willing to buy its power supply from the P. G. & E.

That rate, P-30, is available to any industry that can qualify for it. Could Redwood City, if it owned its distribution system and paid more for its power than the P-30 rate, serve an industry like the cement company? Obviously, it could not.

In Roseville—often cited as an example of successful municipal operation—the Southern Pacific shops and the Pacific Fruit Exchange plants are both supplied by the P. G. & E., not from municipal lines.

The P. G. & E. for many years has been promoting industrial development throughout Central and Northern California by granting extremely low rates to large users of industrial power. Its present schedule for this class of consumers is lower than any industrial rate granted by the municipally owned systems.

The truth is, small municipally owned electric systems never have been able to serve the large industries as economically as can the existing companies. And let me say that power rates in Redwood City are the same as in all the bay cities—the same as San Francisco and Oakland, which is a great advantage considering the difference in population.

New Move Made To Unite Merchants

Within the next few days a new drive to organize the independent merchants of Redwood City will begin, it was disclosed today following a meeting of approximately 25 local merchants Tuesday night.

The gathering, called by Monte Jacobs, representative of the statewide Home Owned Businesses of California, Inc., was held to test sentiment on banding the independent merchants together once more.

Several other attempts to form such organizations have succeeded for a few months but later have been dissolved. Jacobs, however, told of the success his group has had, particularly in Southern California.

Finding that the sentiment expressed at the meeting was generally favorable, Jacobs told the gathering that agents for his organization shortly will contact individual business men at their stores and offices to conduct a sign-up.

If enough merchants join, a district unit will be set up here, which will receive the continued cooperation and support of the state group, Jacobs said.

It is estimated that the people of the United States spend about $200,000,000 a year in the fight against insects of various kinds.

POWER PROPOSAL GOOD BUSINESS

Editorial

Would purchase of the P. G. and E.'s electrical distribution system be a sound investment for the City of Redwood City? What do just plain facts and figures say?

Carl A. Heinze, one of the foremost authorities on the subject on the Pacific Coast, believes that under the first year of municipal operation, the properties would yield a net return of $52,000, with higher profits following thereafter.

Sixteen other California cities which have public ownership nearly all enjoy power rates lower than those of private utility customers, yet make annual profits from their power systems ranging from $10,000, in the case of Healdsburg (population 2300), to $3,650,000 in the case of Los Angeles. For 15 of those cities (excluding Los Angeles) the net income amounts to 40 per cent of the gross revenue. On the same basis Redwood City would clear $75,000 annually. For all 16 cities the income averages 29 per cent. On this basis, Redwood City would clear $60,000 annually. None of the cities cleared less than 25 per cent. Some made nearly 50 per cent.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company makes no attempt to deny these facts. Indeed, the P. G. and E. told the California Railroad Commission less than a year ago that they made $57,342 in 1936 and $60,908 in 1935 from the system after taxes were paid. They further stated that had Redwood City owned the properties during those years, the city could have cleared $66,469 in 1935 and $65,116 in 1936, less whatever taxes would have been lost. City and county taxes on the property proposed to be taken by Redwood City amount to less than $6000 a year. The

P. G. and E. further figured that had they not owned the Redwood City system, their loss would have been $62,500 for 1935 and $58,300 for 1936. These figures, the P. G. and E. said, establish "that at the time of filing the application (Feb. 9, 1935) the company was deriving from the Redwood City distribution properties a net for return of somewhere in the neighborhood of $60,000 per year."

It thus seems entirely safe to assume that on an investment of $575,000—cost of taking over and beginning operation of the P. G. and E.'s power system—the City of Redwood City would be certain to make a profit of at least $52,000 the very first year; more each year to follow, as business increases, as it is sure to do. In the past 12 years, power consumption here increased more than 100 per cent in monetary value, despite several rate reductions. Prospects for Redwood City's growth are brighter now than at any time within those 12 years. There is every reason for believing that the city will continue to grow. And one of the best ways to help it grow is to be prepared to offer cheap electricity through public ownership to prospective residents and industries.

As the city grows, it will find more and more need for funds to make public improvements: a new library, a new city hall, street extensions and improvements, creek coverages.

What better place to get these funds than from operation of another utility? Already the water and garbage utilities have proven highly profitable under city management. The citizens can add a third, and more profitable utility, to the city's ownership by voting "Yes" on the bonds on the ballot November 2.

LOCAL DISTRICT WINS CONTEST

Check up one in the big book for the San Jose district of General Petroleum Corporation, of which Redwood City forms a part and comes in on the cheering.

At a meeting held recently in San Jose, presided over by W. H. Schetter, district manager, and addressed by H. A. Renner, sales promotion manager of the Mobil specialties department of Socony-Vacuum Oil Company of New York, announcement was made that in the 1937 contest of General Petroleum supervisors, San Jose led all Northern California districts by a comfortable margin, showing a total of 1105 points for eight months, with San Francisco second, tied with Oakland, with 960 points.

The contest covers all products handled by General Petroleum.

Present at the meeting from Redwood City and shown in the accompanying photograph, were M. A. Bross, branch manager; J. S. Berceovich, supervisor; Ralph Dodge, S. Ratliff, Dan Martin, A. Tucker and P. Bozzo.

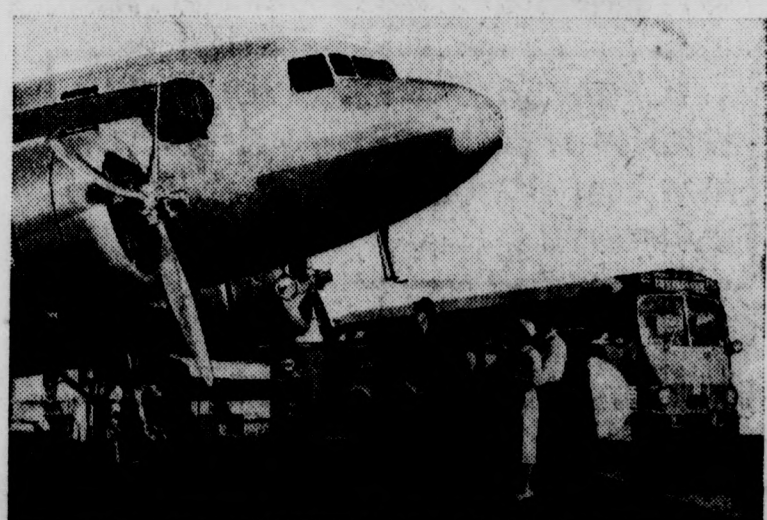

Short-hand systems were used almost as soon as systems of writing appeared.

HIGHWAY AND SKYWAY PILOTS COMPARE THEIR NEWEST EQUIPMENT

"My, that's a great big ship to handle" says the amazed Greyhound driver. "That's no toy you pilot over the highways either," says the pilot of the Douglas Skyliner. Greyhound and TWA have recently entered into an agreement and through tickets are now available over both transportation systems, making it possible to reach all parts of the country with speed and comfort.

Station Road Bids Opened

Improved streets in four sections of Redwood City were either provided for or were reported as having been provided for when the city council met Monday night.

On his low bid of $942, H. L. Sanders was awarded the contract for the paving of the remainder of Montgomery street from California to the pavement already laid by the Southern Pacific to its station. Only other bidder was W. O. Tyson, who submitted an offer to do the work for $1083.

The work was delayed due to delay in obtaining deeds for the property and to necessity for advertising the work, according to City Manager C. L. Dimmitt. The work, however, will be paid for by former owners of the property—A. B. Cheatham and the S. P. company.

MCCARTHY PROPERTY TAKEN
Another section soon to be paved, under agreement recalled by the council, is the portion of the block of Harrison avenue between Clinton and Duane streets.

Acting on recommendation of the planning commission and nearby property owners, the council voted on motion of Councilman Fletcher, second of Councilman Jones, to accept as a gift from John E. McCarthy, builder, the lot along the creek near Duane and allow him to build a house on the other end of the lot, on Clinton street, conforming to regular setback lines. Condition imposed on the city for getting the lot, suitable for park purposes, free, is that the city pave the rest of Harrison street adjacent to the property. City Manager Dimmitt estimated the paving cost would be $800, which sum must come from the unbudgeted reserve, he said.

The lot had been a problem for several weeks. McCarthy had first offered it to the city for $1000 because of the fact that while it was large, it was not suitable for building more than the one house with customary setback lines. Neighbors objected to changing the lines, with the result, the commission was agreed to, with the stipulation being to use the words of Councilman Eva, that it "won't set a precedent."

VALOTA ROAD REPORT

Residents of Valota road were informed that rapid progress was being made in getting that street made eligible for state gas tax aid and that likely work could be begun on the thoroughfare before the end of November.

A deed to necessary rights-of-way is now at the title company, the residents were told; a resolution to change names of the three streets (Ramona, Pearl and Valota) it is necessary to use, to Valota road will be prepared for passage at the November 1 meeting; another resolution will be ready declaring the road a "thoroughfare" and therefore eligible for state funds, and plans will be drawn for the 20-foot pavement.

The fourth street job is already underway. It is the paving of Hillview avenue between Brewster and Hopkins streets.

Mary Barilli Dies At R. C. Home

Mrs. Mary Barilli, resident of Redwood City for several years, was found dead, apparently of a heart attack, in bed at her home at 1510 Kentfield ave. Monday morning. She was an aunt of Angella Case of San Francisco, only known relative. Funeral arrangements are being made at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home in Redwood City.

Valentine Hartling Dies After Illness

Following a long period of declining health, Valentine Hartling passed away early Sunday afternoon at his home, 322 Sierra street, in this city. He was born in Downsville, Calif., 63 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, May Alice Hartling, and one son, Robert J. Hartling.

1938 Dodges Go On Display

The 1938 Dodge cars are now on display at the A. D. Sgarlato showrooms in Redwood City. The new Dodge cars, which are offered in 10 body types, incorporate 47 progressive improvements affecting appearance, comfort and performance.

Changes and improvements distinguishing the 1938 models from their immediate predecessors are found in nearly every major element of the new series—in the power plant, transmission, brakes, steering mechanism, clutch, wheels and other components.

Outstanding engineering features such as floating power and other engine details, silenced all steel safety bodies, hydraulic brakes, hypoid rear axle, and a variety of automatic operating features are either retained or used with modifications.

Entirely new are such units as the radiator shell and grilles by which the head-on appearance of the new cars is beautified. New also are hood louvers, fenders and their mountings, windshield, instrument panel, seat adjustment, head lamps, door and luggage compartment locks, brake drums, engine impulse neutralizer, muffler, clutch facings, clutch baffle and release bearings, generator and interior treatment.

MANY ADVANCES

The improvements, designed for further increased safety, comfort and economy, involve a formidable list of sub-assemblies and parts ranging all the way from a new floating power engine mounting to a 50 per cent reduction in the pressure formerly necessary to operate the self starter.

In the body interiors one notices an especially fine method of upholstering and trim and the use of new fabrics. Unusually luxurious seat cushions are complemented by body contoured back cushions.

The mechanism by which the front seats may be adjusted for different drivers now has its operating lever on one side, in convenient reach of the driver's left hand. As the front seat moves forward it also rises, bringing shorter drivers closer to the control pedals and elevating them to a higher position in which they retain full vision of surroundings. The employment of the hypoid rear axle drive not only eliminates the propeller shaft tunnel, but produces a level floor in rear compartments. Mechanically, the hypoid rear axle combines the strength of the bevel gear drive with the quietness of the worm drive.

Tilting foot rests in the rear compartment, high power door light in the rear body panels, defrosting outlets in the instrument panels, deep floor carpets, smoothly trimmed side walls and roofs, evidently justify the term "luster lounge" by which the manufacturer describes the latest Dodge interiors.

An important detail in the silencing of Dodge cars is the unique method by which the bodies are mounted on the chassis. The system involves the use of chassis outriggers equipped with rubber spools by which chassis and body are kept from making actual metal to metal contact.

therefore, they may be disregarded as imposing any tax liability.

Now look at Palo Alto. On July 1, 1937, the bonded debt of its publicly owned utilities—electricity, gas, water and refuse disposal—was $516,239. Other bonded debt was $456,085, a total of $972,324. Annual payments of interest and principal are $108,516.01, but the utilities furnish $63,272.12 while $45,243.89 is provided from taxes and from Palo Alto Hospital, the latter paying $16,875. In addition to the payment of all interest and principal of bonds for acquisition and extension of the utilities owned and operated by Palo Alto, these utilities turned over $186,746.14 to the general fund during the year ended June 30, 1936, and $164,632.08 for last year. Thus bonds for utilities not only impose no tax burden, but furnish a source of profit which lightens the tax levy on other bonds for sewers, city hall, library and other public improvements which produce no revenue.

Tax Bills Put In County Mail

County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney has "premailed" thousands of tax bills to San Mateo county property owners.

"If you do not receive your tax bill by November 1, kindly write to this office and one will be mailed to you," McSweeney said. "By the end of the week we will have approximately 50,000 bills in the mail, delivery of which cannot be taken care of at once."

"You should, however, receive your bill by the first of the month."

Taxpayers were advised to return their tax bills with their remittances, to enable the tax collector's office to make prompt return of the receipt to the correct address.

For convenience of taxpayers living some distance from the courthouse, the collector will be in the following places outside of his office on the following dates:

Pescadero and San Gregorio, November 2; Half Moon Bay, November 4; San Bruno, November 5; Colma, November 9; South San Francisco, November 12; Daly City, November 16; Burlingame, November 18; San Mateo, November 19; Rungmede, November 24.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

John G. Shortridge, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Shortridge, will be married tomorrow to Miss Katherine McCullough at the home of the bride's mother on Clay street, San Francisco. It will be a quiet wedding, with only immediate relatives present.

The bride-to-be is pretty and highly accomplished. Shortridge is a prominent attorney at Bakersfield, where the young couple will reside. He is a graduate of Stanford University and Hastings Law School. After his admission to the bar he spent two years in the law offices of Garrett McEnerney, well known attorney.

Menlo Parlor, Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West, are seeking new headquarters to hold meetings, as recent restrictions placed on the hall by the lessee, the Masonic Hall Association, make it impossible for them to remain.

The old building will in a short time either be moved back or demolished to make room for widening of the highway, which will start early next year.

The structure was erected by the firm of Duff and Doyle over 40 years ago, and was the first brick building erected in town.

Native Sons and Daughters will hold their annual card party for the benefit of homeless children in Central School auditorium Thursday, November 4, at 8:15 p. m.

Ted Morrell, Phil Blanchard, Frank Johnson and William H. Weeden will form the Native Sons committee, while the Native Daughters committee will include Mrs. Isabelle Weeden Lindquist, Mrs. Katherine Derry, Miss Eloise Rathje and Mrs. Lloyd Ryan.

Score cards will be 25 cents.

Father J. F. McDonough has returned from the East, where he spent his vacation, to resume his duties at St. Patrick's Seminary. He is a professor of history at the institution, and is engaged in writing a history of the seminary. The manuscript will be ready for the printer early next year. It will be an interesting volume.

Grand President Ethel I. Begley will pay her official visit to Menlo Parlor No. 211, Native Daughters of the Golden West, Tuesday, November 16. President Louise Murray urges all members to be present at the next meeting, at which time practice will be held and plans made for entertainment of the grand president.

His excellency, the Most Rev. Archbishop John J. Mitty, D.D., offered a requiem mass Saturday morning in the chapel of Corpus Christi Monastery for the repose of the soul of the late Rev. Mother Prior Mary Agnes of St. Dominic. The event was largely attended both by the clergy and friends of the monastery.

His excellency spoke beautifully of the deceased mother, offering words of sympathy to the bereaved community. Taking as his text the words from St. Paul: "For me to live is Christ; to die is gain," his excellency stressed the fact that "human life is but the preparation for eternal life, which will be in great measure as we choose to make our preparation."

The community, which has not yet ceased to mourn the death of their beloved mother prioress, Mother Mary Agnes, has been called upon by God to make another sacrifice in the death of Sister Mary Rose, which occurred October 15.

She was among the first sisters who came from Hunt's Point, New York, to make the foundation in California. She entered the Hunt's Point monastery 47 years ago and during all these years had been a most devoted and edifying religious.

She was the natural sister of the late Sister Mary Benedict, well known as the extern sister of Corpus Christi Monastery first at Eddy street, San Francisco, and then at Menlo Park. She was survived by a brother, Patrick Gargan of New York City, and Sister M. Christina of the Franciscan convent at Peekskill, New York.

Sister Mary Rose was 77, and had been all her life of a most joyous disposition, even to the last. She was always ready with a welcome smile to greet everyone who approached her and always ready, in her kind way, to be of assistance to all. Her presence will be missed by the community of Corpus Christi Monastery, where she was beloved by all.

Council Pledges Band Financial Aid-On Condition

Redwood City's Municipal Band has a real incentive now to make its November dance a success.

For with success will come recognition from the city council—recognition in the form of financial aid.

This was agreed upon by councilmen Monday after Dr. R. Lee Otis, director, and several band members had appeared to ask the council to finance purchase or rental of equipment including a bass drum, cymbals, colors, music, and to buy 35 uniforms at $30 each.

It was explained that much of the funds, which appeared to total about $1500, would be returned by the band from benefits such as the coming dance.

"We know we can fully repay the City Redwood City in cash as well as from a publicity standpoint for supporting us," Dr. Otis declared.

At suggestion of Councilmen Evans A. Fletcher and James M. Eya, the council made a verbal pledge:

That if the band should make a financial as well as social success of its coming dance, the council would regard it as a guarantee of permanency of the organization and would underwrite cost of necessary equipment so that it could be purchased by January 1, 1938, for the band to appear at the annual East-West game.

Canoe burials were once practiced among American Indian tribes.

Auto Death Charges Denied by Autoist

Matt Nitschke, 23, Sunnyvale, pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial when arraigned here Monday afternoon in Judge A. R. Cotton's court. November 3 was the date set for the trial.

Durney, 43, widow of a San Jose physician; her daughter, Mrs. Marie Downing, 22; and her son, Charles Paul Durney, 15.

A complaint of negligent homicide was filed against Nitschke.

C. W. Hoffman Wins Dismissal of Charge

Bad check charges against C. W. Hoffman, 902 Stambaugh street, were dismissed Monday on motion of Dep. Dist. Atty. Burrell Karmel. Karmel advised Superior Judge A. R. Cotton that restitution had been made on the $10 check involved; that Hoffman had been shown to have had no intent to defraud, and that he had now been completely exonerated.

County Pension Bill Takes Jump of $2000

San Mateo county's old age pension payroll will jump nearly $2000 November 1, according to James Packwood, secretary of Dr. Charles C. Gans, health director. Under the new state law, pensions are paid on the first of each month in advance.

Seventy new cases were added to the pension roll this month, Packwood said, bringing the total to 679. There are about 110 "workable cases" in the county now under investigation, and Packwood expects that additions to the pension roll will be made at the rate of about 30 per month for the next three months.

Hospital Escape Held Here for Auto Theft

Eitel Ebert, 25-year-old Agnew escapee, today awaited his return to the state hospital after three days of freedom. Ebert was booked at the county jail here on charges of grand theft for allegedly stealing a car belonging to Joe Scardino, 836 Roosevelt avenue.

Ebert told Sheriff James J. McGrath that he was homesick for the hospital. Prior to his confinement in the institution, Ebert was a baker in San Francisco.

On October 13 he escaped. Next day he stole Scardino's car in San Mateo. San Francisco police apprehended him Saturday, and turned him over to the San Mateo sheriff.

It was indicated that the theft charge will be dropped when Ebert is once more safely confined in the state hospital.

Marchbank Sued By Tax Advisor

Col. John L. Flynn, tax adviser, has filed three separate actions against John L. Marchbank, owner of Tanforan race track, to recover amounts alleged due for services in the past two years.

The first action is against Marchbank himself for $1889.80.

The second names Tanforan Co. Ltd., and seeks $1371.84.

The third action was filed in the justice court at San Mateo for $145.50 from the Warren Dredging Co., owned by Marchbank.

According to John E. McCurdy, attorney for Colonel Flynn, the plaintiff was formerly with the internal revenue department and now maintains offices in San Francisco as tax adviser. Flynn served as statistician and auditor in preparing income tax returns for Marchbank, McCurdy said, and in connection therewith prepared the returns for the race track and mining companies.

Colonel Flynn seeks interest from April, 1936, and costs.

TO JAIL ON CHECK CHARGE

$575,000 ELECTRIC BOND ISSUES

Voters and Taxpayers of Redwood City:

You will be called upon on November 2nd, to vote $575,000 in bonds to put the City of Redwood City into the electrical business.

The reason there are two proposals is that the backers of this scheme don't know what they want to do—they don't know whether to buy, build or condemn. Yet they ask you to hand over to them $575,000 to be raised by voting a mortgage on all the taxable property in Redwood City.

Remember, these are general obligation bonds, not revenue bonds, and they would be a lien on every home and place of business within the city limits.

TOO MANY BONDS

Redwood City now has a bonded debt of $747,484.53. If these new bonds should be voted the grand total would become $1,322,000, and Redwood City would have the largest bonded indebtedness and the largest per capita debt of any city in San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties. Here are the figures:

	POPULATION (1930 U. S. Census)	Bonded Debt (Including electric issue)	Per Capita
Redwood City	8,962	$1,322,000	$147.51
San Jose	57,651	1,087,675	18.86
Palo Alto	13,652	972,325	71.22
Burlingame	13,270	440,220	33.17
San Mateo	13,444	279,958	20.82

Think of it! A debt of $147.51 per head for every man, woman and child in Redwood City, compared with $18.86 in San Jose.

Think of it again! A greater bonded debt than San Jose, which is a city six times larger than we are. Redwood City can't stand such a back-breaking burden.

REDWOOD HARBOR THREATENED:

If we take on this great debt what will happen when the new Redwood City Harbor needs more money? If the port develops, as everyone hopes it will, more bond issues will be necessary for warehouses, docks and other shipping facilities.

If we vote bonds now for this power scheme, we will throw a monkey wrench into the Harbor Board's plan. Let's build the Harbor up before we tackle another big project; let's develop new industries and new payrolls before we tie up our credit for something we already have, electric service.

COST ESTIMATES ONLY GUESSES:

Three years ago those who now advocate the issuance of these bonds estimated the cost of acquiring the local electric system at "around $300,000." They went before the Railroad Commission and boosted their figure to $379,000. Even then they were wrong for the Railroad Commission fixed a valuation of $488,000. But that was not the end—they have now raised their estimate or guess to $575,000.

What assurance have we that more money won't be demanded in the future? Not any. We don't know where this scheme will end. All we know is that we are asked to vote what might be called a blank check for $575,000.

PROPOSAL NO. 2 IS A SHOT IN THE DARK:

The fact is the proponents of these bonds do not know what course to pursue. In this dilemma they asked for and caused to be placed on the ballot two confusing proposals. Under No. 2 they propose to build a competing system and try to fight the existing company. But they have no plans, no estimate of cost, no calculations of what the gains or losses might be.
